The smell of cinnamon, the creamy taste of eggnog, ugly sweater contests at Holiday parties, and Holiday decorations often invoke certain feelings of joy, warmth and a renewal of family connection during the month of December. It is a time when we are a little more charitable and thoughtful toward others who are less fortunate than we. It is a time that is filled with expectation and anticipation as we wonder what our wrapped gifts might be. Yet, for some of our Airmen the holidays can be pretty lonely. For those who do not have a place to go or have a home-cooked meal, the holidays can be an emotional challenge and dreadful.

The Chaplain Corps at Whiteman is sponsoring three opportunities during the Holidays to belong and connect. The first is a program called "Adopt an Airman" where we connect airmen who have no place to go during the holidays with families who would invite them in their homes for a home-cooked meal. If you are interested in this program please call the Chapel and ask for Chaplain Tony Davy at 687-3652 who is our point of contact. The second opportunity to connect and belong is our worship services. We have listed our times of worship for Catholic and Protestant services. Please join us for our Christmas Eve (Dec. 24) worship gatherings as posted. Lastly, the Stealth Lounge will host a movie night and popcorn the day after Christmas (Dec. 26) Join us on our comfy couches, amazing audio and visual display and great conversations. We do not want our warriors to be alone during the holidays.

Australian Defence Force visit

Royal Australian Navy Vice Adm. Ray Griggs (left), Vice Chief of the Australian Defence Force, speaks with U.S. Air Force Senior Airman Adam Sweet, a 509th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron crew chief, about the capabilities of the B-2 Spirit during Griggs' visit to Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., Dec. 1, 2015. The visit is one of many ongoing efforts by U.S. Strategic Command (USSTRATCOM) to build and maintain enduring relationships with partner nations to confront the broad range of global challenges. While at Whiteman AFB, Griggs visited different base facilities and met with USSTRATCOM senior leaders to acquire a better understanding of the command and its global missions, which include strategic deterrence; space operations; cyberspace operations; joint electronic warfare; global strike; missile defense; intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance; combating weapons of mass destruction; and analysis and targeting.

Royal Australian Navy Vice Adm. Ray Griggs (center right), Vice Chief of the Australian Defence Force, and U.S. Air Force Lt. Gen. Stephen W. Wilson (center left), U.S. Strategic Command (USSTRATCOM) deputy commander, speak with Senior Master Sgt. Larry Driver II, the 509th Maintenance Squadron weapons superintendent, about the B-2 Spirit's capabilities during Griggs' visit to Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., Dec. 1, 2015.

Royal Australian Navy Rear Adm. Steve Gilmore (left), head of the Australian Defence Staff, and U.S. Air Force Chief Master Sgt. Darron Hunter, 509th Maintenance Group chief, discuss multi-role bomber capabilities of the B-2 Spirit during Gilmore's visit to Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., Dec. 1, 2015.

1st Lt. Zachary Wood, a 509th Comptroller Squadron budget analyst, discusses a six-part mobility folder with Senior Airman Maurice Cooper, a 509th Bomb Wing administration journeyman, at Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., Dec. 11, 2015. The folder contains information to prepare personnel for deployment.

By Senior Airman Keenan Berry

509th Bomb Wing Public Affairs

Meet U.S. Air Force 1st Lt. Zachary Wood, a 509th Comptroller Squadron budget analyst. Wood handles budgeting and deployment tasks for the 509th Bomb Wing.

Born and raised in Bowen, Illinois, Wood has been in the Air Force for two years and enjoys his job.

"I love my job because of the responsibility," Wood said. "I'm responsible for ensuring the base budget is maintained to keep the B-2 Spirit in the skies; it's challenging and great at the same time."

Wood was more than willing to participate in a question and answer session.

Q. What inspired you to join the Air Force?

A. In high school I was full of patriotism and love for my country which inspired me to join.

Q. What are your thoughts about carrying out the bomber legacy?

A. My family farmed for six generations, so I understand that a legacy is huge deal. The bomber legacy is something to be proud of and I make sure every day I am working as hard as I can to ensure I'm upholding it.

Q. What are your personal goals?

A. My personal goals are to finish my Master's degree and be the best I can be at my job.

Q. What does your additional duty as a unit deployment manager involve?

A. I ensure personnel have current information in their records so I can route them to the commander, informing him of our readiness capability for deployments. I brief members on the requirements/qualifications they need during the pre-deployment process and help guide them through the necessary steps.

The Whiteman community congratulates Wood for earning the The 2015 Air Force Global Strike Command Financial Management Officer of the Year as he continues to contribute to the bomber legacy.

1st Lt. Zachary Wood, a 509th Comptroller Squadron budget analyst, reviews a member's deployment records at Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., Dec. 11, 2015. Wood verifies members' qualifications and training records to ensure the information is accurate and properly completed.

1st Lt. Zachary Wood, a 509th Comptroller Squadron budget analyst, guides Senior Airman Maurice Cooper, a 509th Bomb Wing administration journeyman, through the Air and Space Expeditionary Force Center website at Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo. Dec. 11, 2015. The website is used in conjunction with the six-part mobility folder to track a member's documents, which include qualifications, training and physical training test records for deployment readiness.
